About the Experience

Glade Run Lutheran Services is offering an innovative opportunity for adults with autism and/or intellectual disabilities to experience living away from home for six days. These individuals will gain confidence and an understanding of their true abilities.

Participants will reside in Matthew House located on Glade Run's campus in Zelienople, PA. During this experience, participants will engage in a variety of presentations and activities designed to:

- increase social skills
- promote adult readiness
- build on employment skills
- encourage independence

Nightly group social activities will be based on a group decision.

Glade Run staff will provide 24-hour supervision and support.

Program Eligibility

Glade Run's Independent Living Experience is designed for:

- individuals diagnosed with autism and/or an intellectual disability that are ages 18 to 35 years
- individuals who have the ability to self-administer all medications
- individuals who have the ability to navigate the community with support at a 1:5 ratio
